A UNIQUENESS THAT IS EXCELSIOR

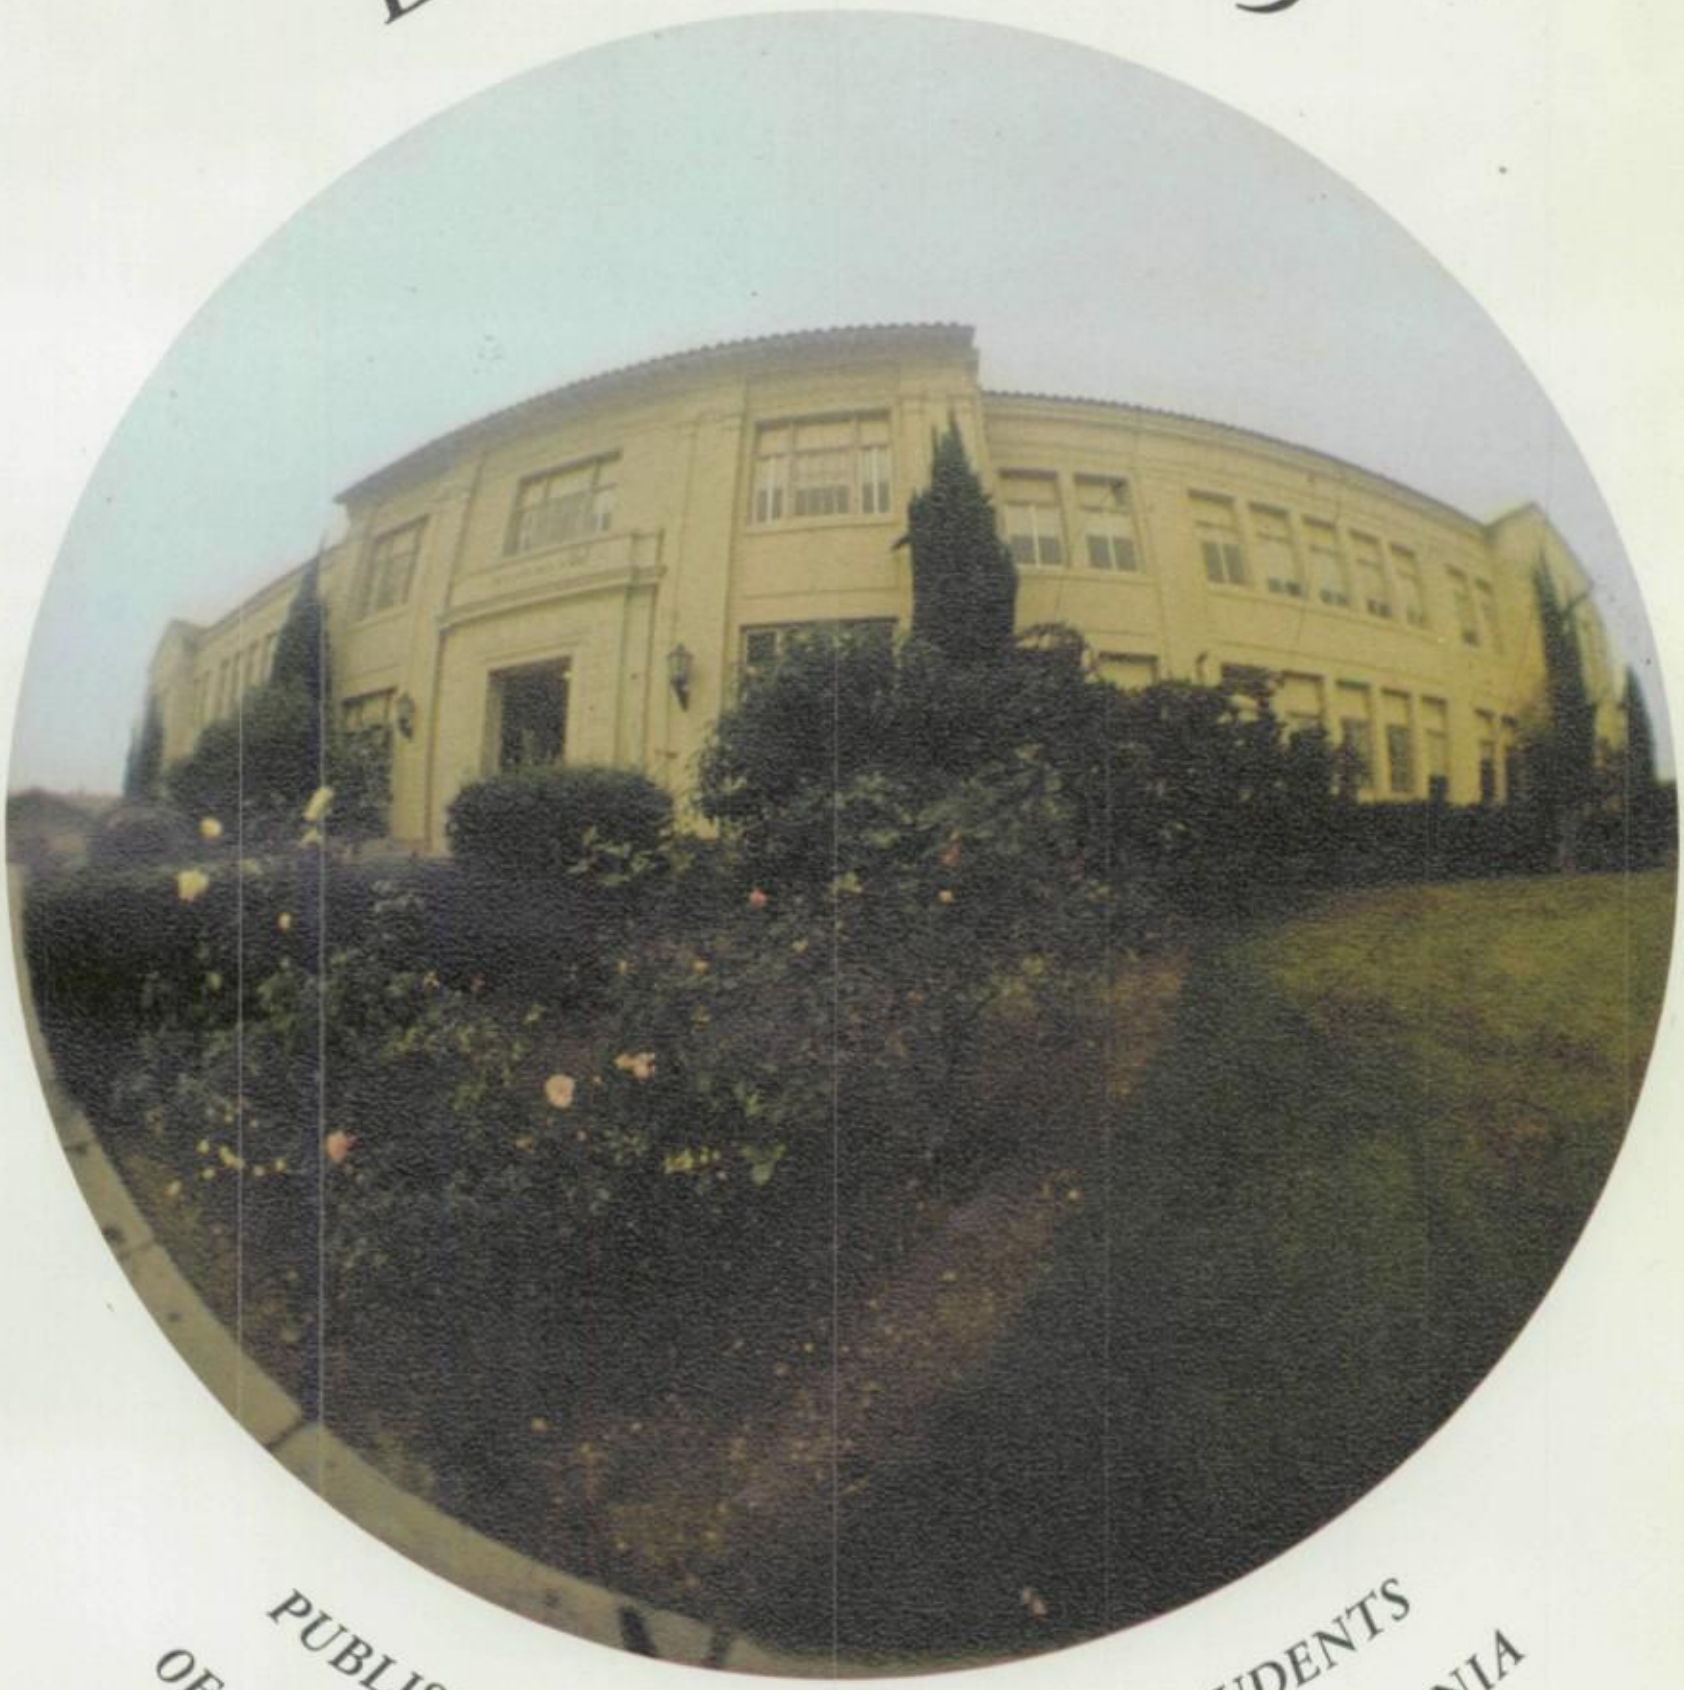
EL AVIADOR 1969



PUBLISHED BY THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS
OF EXCELSIOR HIGH SCHOOL - NORWALK, CALIFORNIA

Important events and activities were publicized in EXCELSIOR LIFE. Student publications have been a long-time Excelsior tradition. In our bimonthly newspaper students read about current news, campus activities, sports events, and enthusiastic yell leaders, who led the spirited crowds at football games.

An ever expanding trophy case, the privilege of senior square, a hardworking and spirited football team, people crowding around the victory bell, and the enthusiastic command, "Seniors Rise" represent some of the old traditions of Excelsior. With new and modern customs these old traditions help to keep Excelsior unique.

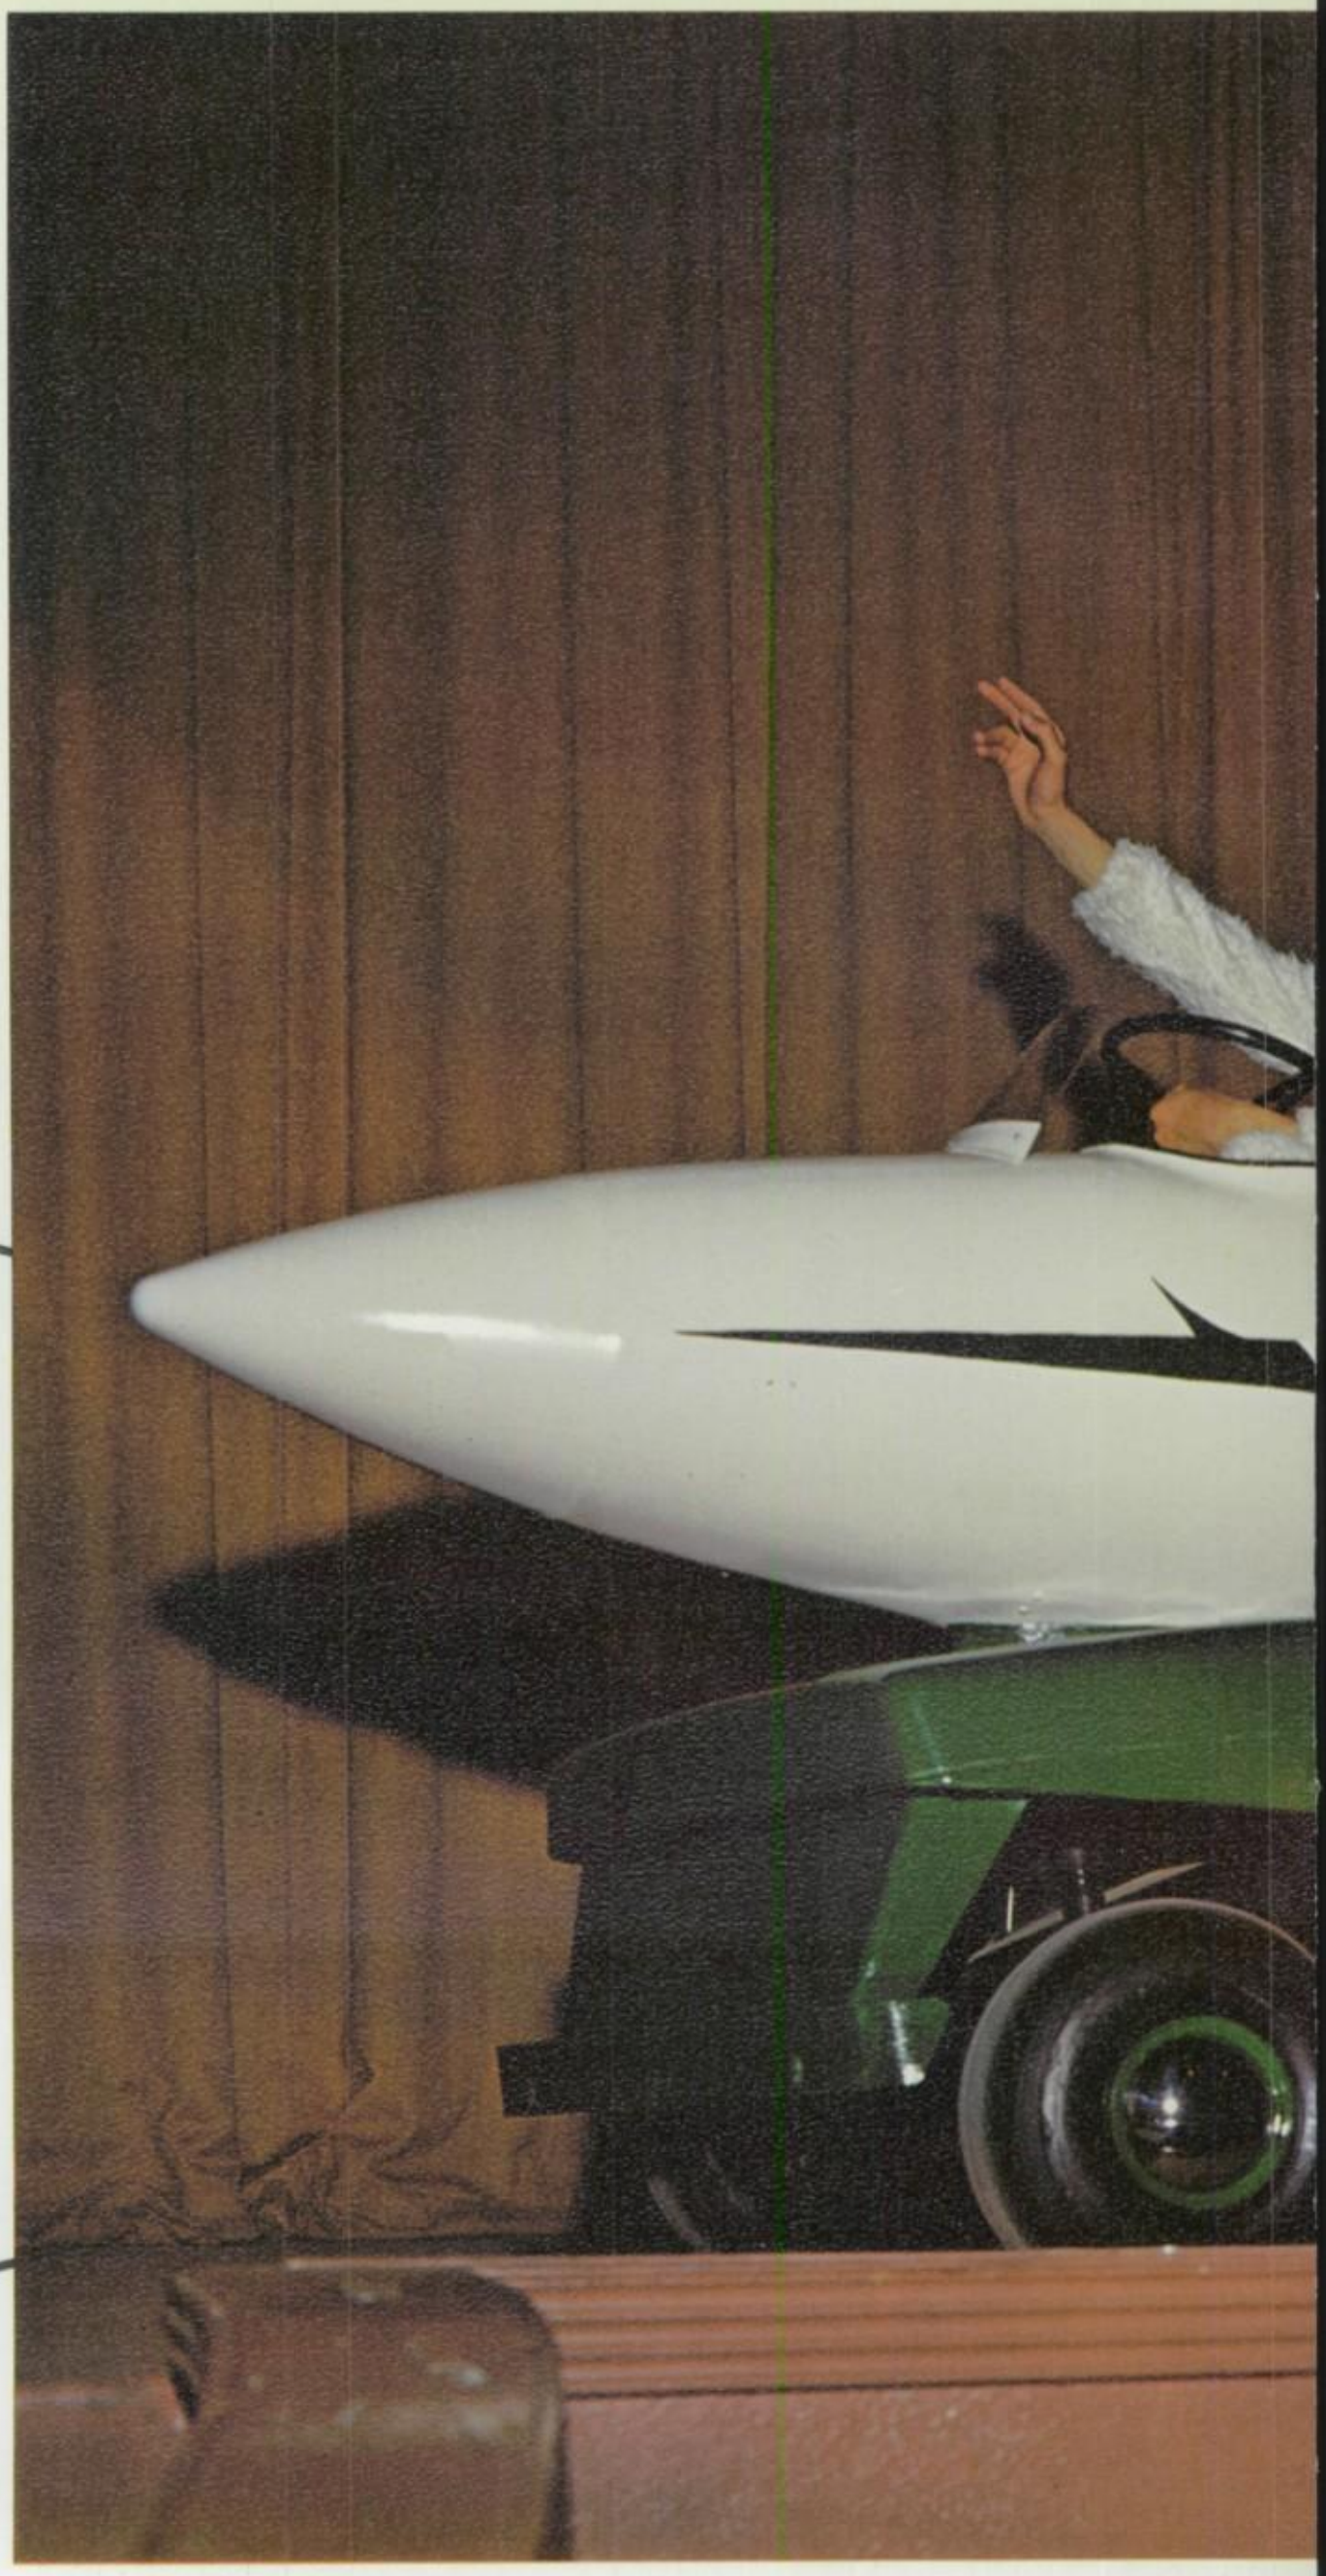
Active and friendly students help to create an atmosphere that is Excelsior. Throughout the year students kept active. They participated in candy sales, assemblies, and discussions with friends.



One of Excelsior's more recent traditions was the addition of school mascots. In their newly created airplane, Snoopy and Pilot Trueheart greatly helped promote school spirit in an effort to keep Pilots flying high.

thoughtful and dedicated teachers, four eventful years lead to
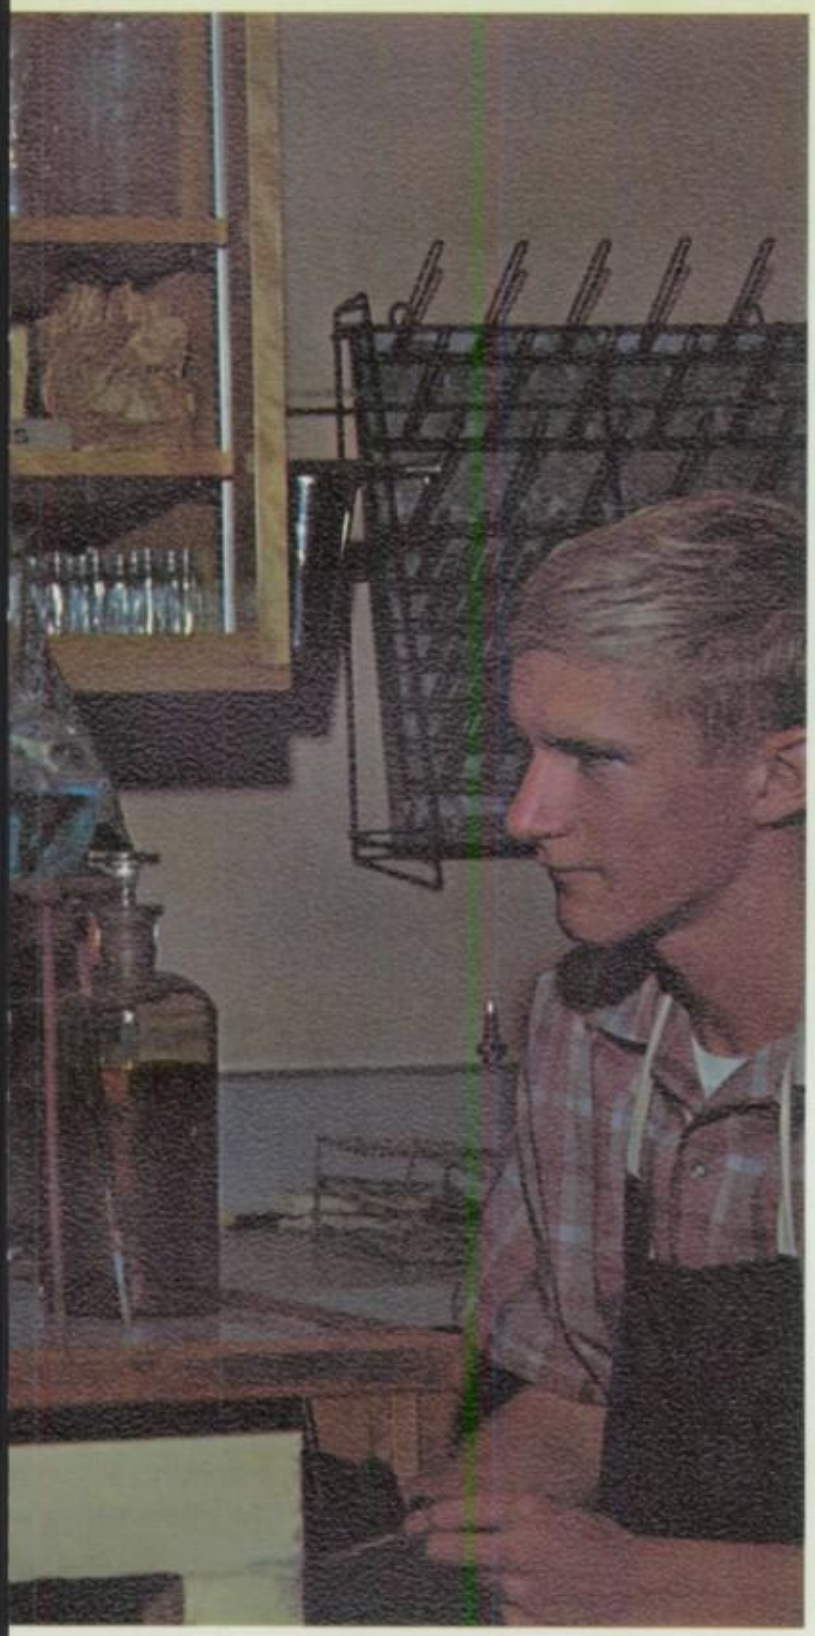
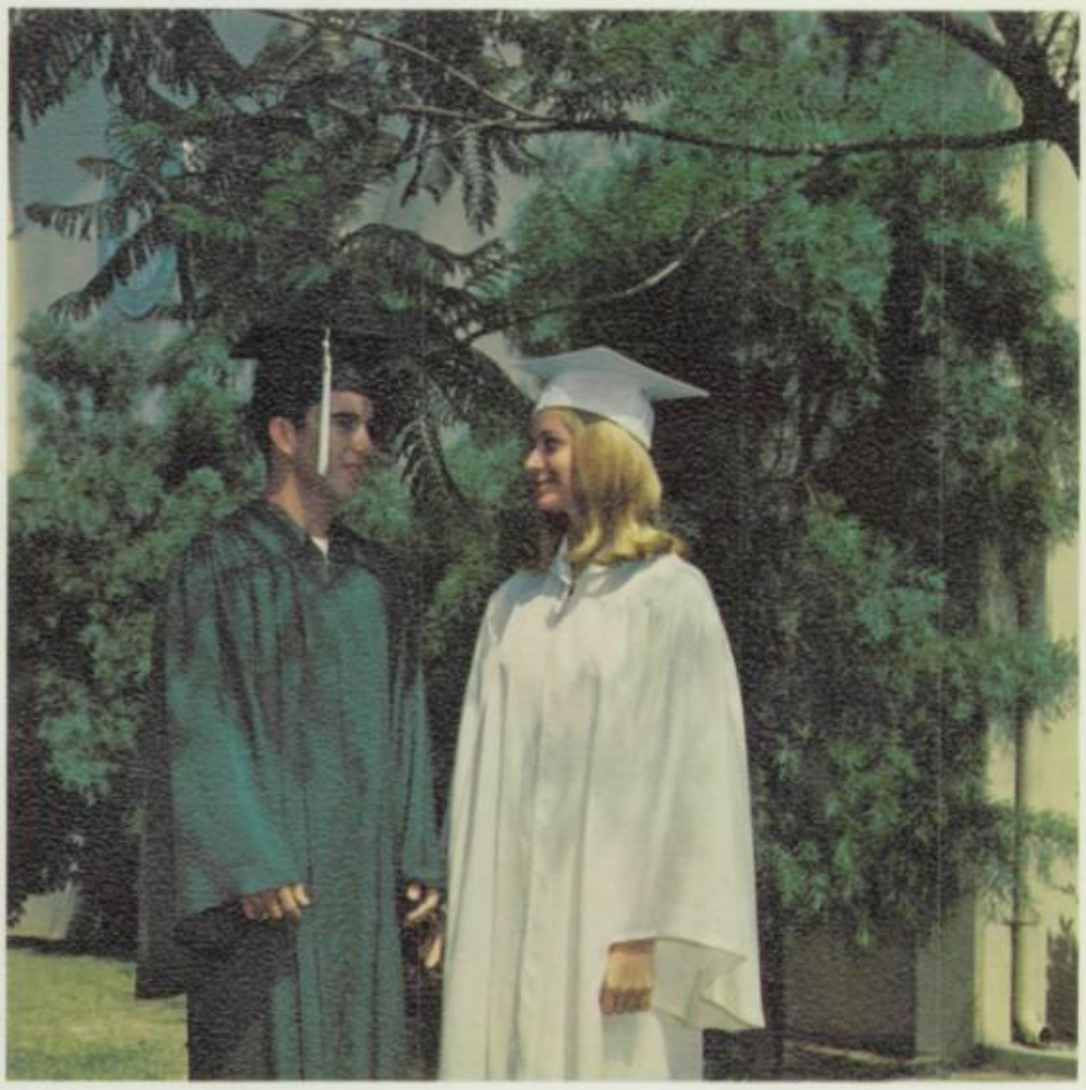
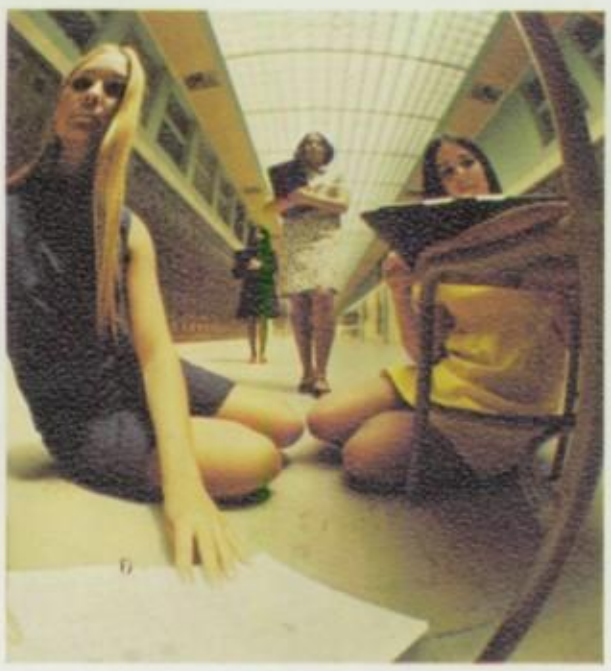
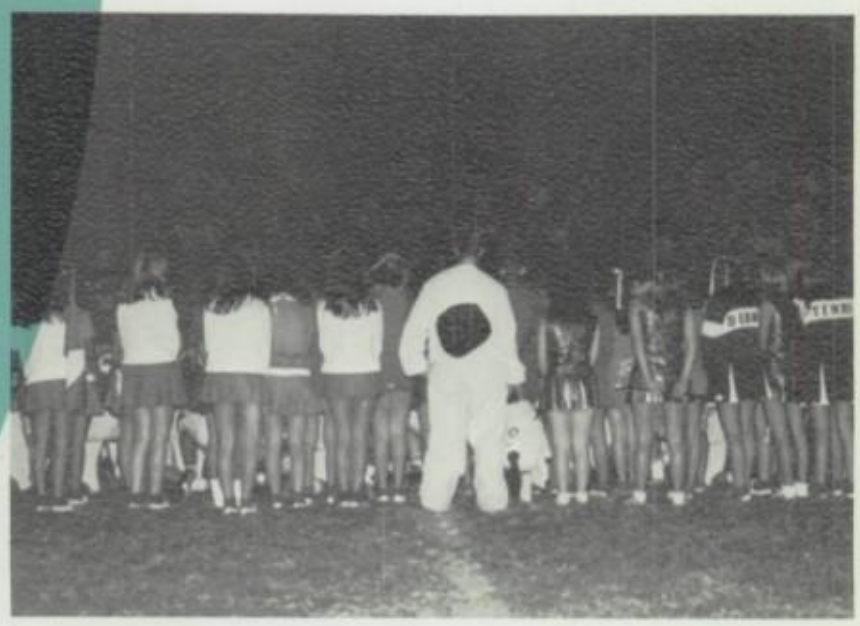
graduation.









A TRADITION OF ENTHUSIASM AND TEAM-WORK HAVE CARRIED THE PILOTS THROUGH SUCCESSFUL YEARS

FOREWORD

Enduring traditions of yesterday are daily present on Excelsior's campus. The classical structure of old Spanish buildings defying change; the statues of Lincoln and Washington, standing silently in our auditorium have endured through the years. These along with many time-worn traditions help to establish the uniqueness that is Excelsior.

Excelsior's uniqueness began as far back as 1902 when a class of twenty-three students and three faculty members met at the old Norwalk Grammar School on Walnut Street. The class chose green and white as their school colors and were called Excelsiorites.

As the years passed to the twenties, Excelsiorites saw plans under way for the construction of a new Excelsior Union High School on Pioneer and Alondra and in 1924 the first classes were held in this new building. During this era, slick haired boys and girls, wearing the latest "bobs", introduced such traditions as Senior Horoscope and organized the Big E Club, a club which is today known as the Varsity Club.

During the next decade an earthquake brought destruction to Excelsior and in 1935 it was necessary to rebuild our administration building. The thirties also brought many new traditions. A Boys' League was established and it became customary for juniors to receive sweaters and seniors to receive rings.

As the forties rolled around upper classmen adopted the idea of aiding bewildered freshmen with the help of Big Brothers and Big Sisters.

The fifties brought still other new traditions. In an effort to promote school spirit, each class elected their own song and yell leaders, and a Girls' Letter Club was formed.

The advanced systems of the sixties brought many new changes. IBM computing up-dated registration techniques while projectors and new technical equipment advanced class room instruction. The sixties also introduced new school mascots, Pilot Trueheart and Snoopy. These two helped our school spirit soar as they flew off to games in their new Pilot plane.

Today, as Pilots attend school functions they find tradition from over half a century. We have kept the old and acquired the new, making our school unique. This uniqueness will, as it has in the past, continue to carry Excelsior onward and upward.

1902 marked the beginning of Excelsior. It was then that she became an accredited school, an establishment with a definite purpose.

This purpose developed into a tradition—a tradition which has endured for the last sixty-seven years. Senior sweaters, homecomings, Pilot Trueheart and Snoopy, along with many other forms of school tradition—some old and treasured—others new and unique—have contributed to the campus life here at Excelsior. Perhaps the oldest and most popular tradition has been the dedication of the EL AVIADOR to a deserving faculty member. This year the representative students have kept this tradition by choosing a faculty member that has helped to keep Excelsior as original as her "Alma Mater."

As a teacher of United States History this man has acquainted many students with the problems of yesterday and has conducted meaningful classroom discussions on building an ideal nation for tomorrow. Besides teaching history, he has helped many talented Pilots develop their musical abilities. His home at Excelsior is found on the second floor of the auditorium, and it is here that he has conducted many early morning rehearsals for students who have shown an interest in and an aptitude for music.

This teacher devotes much of his spare time preparing our band for half-time shows at football games, competition at music festivals, performances on assemblies, and the Spring Swing.

Throughout the years he has done much for Excelsior, but perhaps his greatest contribution to our school has been the composition of our lovely "Alma Mater." Born in Alhambra, California, he obtained his M.A.T., M.E.D., and B.A. degrees at Whittier College. He started his teaching career at Excelsior and has remained a dedicated member of our teaching staff, upholding the many Excelsior traditions. We proudly dedicate the 1968-1969 EL AVIADOR to Mr. Robert Scott.

Schools as institutions of learning provide a wide range of opportunities for students to gain knowledge. Some students, however, put aside their studies and sacrifice grades for a dance, a joy ride after school, a girl or boyfriend, a football game, or a track meet.

This page is dedicated to members of the senior class who did not sacrifice their grades for passing pleasures, who would participate in school activities only when their homework was completed and who attempted to take from Excelsior a rich academic experience. These students became members of the California Scholarship Federation.

We take this page to honor the 1969 Sealbearers, outstanding students who helped to keep the senior class flying "onward and upward."

CLASS OF '70

Receiving their rings early in the year, the juniors upheld the age old tradition of showing them proudly. The junior class was noticeably represented upholding our school spirit at many football and basketball games this year. The Class of '70, active and eager to participate, carried on Excelsior's roster of extracurricular activities.

The junior class began plans early for the traditional Junior–Senior Prom by selling chocolate candy bars. The prom was held in the spring at the Pacific Coast Club in Long Beach.

One of the last activities that juniors participated in was the ordering of senior sweaters. Thus they took on a new challenge.

CLASS OF '71

Excelsior's sophomore class enjoyed many traditional activities while completing their last year as underclassmen. Many of their class members participated in clubs, drill units, and sports events, and the class of '71 was well supported with cheers at rallies and games.

As sophomores these students completed their last year as traditional underclassmen. They took their first step toward becoming upperclassmen by ordering their junior rings. Next year they will return to use the experience they gained as sophomores and to uphold Excelsior's high standards.

This year the freshmen participated in many new and interesting activities. The first activity for the incoming students was Freshman Day, one of the highlights of the beginning term. This activitiy introduced freshmen to facets of Excelsior life. A popular facet with the freshmen was the Pep Club, one of the best attended clubs on campus. This club provided an exceptionally spirited atmosphere for all football games and assemblies.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The publication of this book marks the end of a school year, and for some marks the close of their high school career. I trust that the memories the book calls up are pleasant ones for you, recalling good times with your friends on campus. It is also my hope that you look back on the year as one in which you have grown intellectually, with the knowledge and skills obtained from your school work providing a good foundation for college, work, and life.

I trust that as you turn these pages you have the satisfaction of feeling that you were really a part of the "old school," that you have made a contribution to its reputation and tradition. If you are proud of the school, you show your pride in yourself.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student Body President Barry Beith, an outstanding NFL speaker, combined his leadership and speaking abilities to guide first semester government. Representing the voice of Excelsior at the San Gabriel Valley League Sportsmanship Conference and other conferences kept Barry busy. Barry also worked closely with Mrs. Keim and his cabinet in promoting student welfare and in seeking advice on various matters.

Meeting every school day at 7:45 a.m. to take care of school business, first semester senate also assisted Barry in leading the Pilots onward and upward. In order to handle Pilot activities more efficiently, senate members were divided into various committees. Chuck Brown, Student Body Vice-President, headed the Ways and Means Committee which organized "Santa's Charity Ball" and the sale of candy canes. Led by Barry Beith, the Constitution Committee investigated possible revisions in our school constitution. Director of Activities, Bev Cotton was aided by the Rally Committee in planning spirited rallies, and Director of Publicity Joe Clark kept his Publicity Committee busy advertising all the major school events.

(B) Director of Activities, Bev Cotton, spent much of her time arranging for many fine assemblies. Trying to locate hypnotist George Sharp for a future assembly kept Bev busy making telephone calls and writing letters.

(C) Evaluating the school paper, EXCELSIOR LIFE, was one of the many jobs handled by senate. Suggestions made by members sometimes helped the EXCELSIOR LIFE Staff with future publications.

(B) According to the Excelsior Constitution, the treasurer stays in office both first and second semesters. Starting her second semester as Student Body Treasurer, Linda Murphy, becomes an old hand at filling out vouchers and depositing student funds.

(D) On their way to the Activities Office for a cabinet meeting, President Chuck Brown and Vice-President Ed Sosa discuss their agenda.

(E) Amid the basketball games, speech tournaments, wrestling matches, and other student endeavors, Director of Activities Janice Holcomb had to find an open date on the calendar to schedule an assembly.

(F) During second semester senate, Sergeant-at-Arms, Steve Taylor, found it necessary to fine members for tardies. These funds were used for a senate party.

HANNELE TAKES MEMORIES OF EXCELSIOR BACK TO FINLAND

Hannele Mustonen, the lovely foreign exchange student was born in Joensu, Finland, of November 27,1950. Hannele is the daughter of Vaino and Eila Mustonen. She has only one older brother, Pekka, who is nineteen years old.

While in the United States, Hannele had the opportunity of comparing our government and educational systems with those of Finland's. American family life was also a new experience for Hannele as she spent the year with the McPhersons. Her American sister, Debbie McPherson, is a sophomore at Excelsior. Together the two girls went sight-seeing, attended almost all school functions, and enjoyed discovering each other's homeland.

It will be hard for Hannele to leave her friends and return home, but her memories of Excelsior will travel across the Atlantic with her.

These two outstanding Excelsior students received the honor of attending Girls' State, held at the University of California - Davis, and Boys' State, held at the California State Fairgrounds. During the summer they spent a week at these conferences and came back with a better understanding of how government functions at the state level.

(C) Always ready to help students, Mrs. Keim kept busy with her role as teacher, Director of Activities and Senate Advisor.

(D) Maintaining an atmosphere of spirit on the Excelsior campus was the responsibility of the Head Varsity Song Leader, Barbara Allen, and the Head Varsity Yell Leader, Shelly Henry.

(E) Capturing our foreign exchange student, Hannele Mustonen, without a smile was impossible. Her radiant smile and charming Finnish accent won the hearts of everyone on campus.

(F) One of Hannele's classes at Excelsior was LIFE Staff. The Finnish view of student activities made interesting articles for LIFE editions.

(G) Once in the United States Hannele acquired a taste for American food. She soon found that she liked hamburgers and cokes. She enjoyed the experience of learning to eat new foods.

ANNUAL STAFF

Starting in mid-summer the 1968-'69 Annual Staff began the challenge of creating an excitingly different annual. Their first step was to raise enough money selling advertisements to give the Pilots a full color opening section. As the work shifted to the classroom, the task became a little more difficult. It was here the staff worked hour after hour formating ideas that would present Excelsior's old and treasured traditions along with those newly acquired. To capture the school's uniqueness the EL AVIADOR staff contrasted pictures from the early nineteen hundreds with the modern look of the fisheye.

The 1968-'69 EL AVIADOR staff proudly presents a unique look at Excelsior past and present.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

A▲ D▼

Girls' League was organized in 1924 for the purpose of promoting friendships among the girls on Excelsior's campus. This year, in that same spirit of friendship, Girls' League organized a sucker sale in order to sponsor the Valentine Dance. They also worked together to present a fashion show which acquainted our girls with the latest fashions from casual to formal wear. All in all Girls' League was one of the most active organizations on campus.

LIFE STAFF

A record and account of such traditions as Homecoming, the Christmas Dance, and the Junior-Senior Prom were found in the bi-monthly editions of the EXCELSIOR LIFE. Stories of these memorable events, as read by the student body, were written by informed students and a dedicated Journalism Staff.

Although it takes time, work, and patience to publish an interesting paper, Life Staff took time out to enjoy such activities as exchanging Christmas gifts and a trip to U. C. L. A. for Journalism Day.

GERMAN CLUB AND LATIN CLUB

The German Club has made it possible for students studying German to learn more about the customs and culture of the exciting country of Germany. Many meetings were held during this past year, and at these meetings members of the club had fun singing songs and listening to German music. Members have also learned to correspond with one another in German. Mr. John Herbst formed and supervised the club for second year German students who took an interest in this special opportunity.

"VERTUS ET VERTAS," courage and truth– Latin Club takes pride in accepting these wise words as their motto. This organization is one of the most rewarding and exciting clubs on our campus. Every year Latin Club members have an "Amicus Incognitus" which means, unknown friend. Each member draws a name and corresponds with this member. In May at the Latin Club banquet the unknown friends are revealed. Each year it has been a tradition to take a field trip to some place of interest. Recently they visited the Huntington Hartford Library and Art Gallery. At the close of the year, senior members of Latin Club write an essay on what they found to be the greatest value in Latin. The student writing the best essay is given an award for being the best Latin student at Excelsior.

MEXICAN-AMERICAN CLUB

The Mexican-American Club, once known as the Los Sabios Club, holds the tradition of promoting friendship among the Mexican and American students. In order that the students of Excelsior could get together this year, the Mexican-American Club, under the direction of Mr. Pena, put on one of the biggest dances of the year. Through such activities the Mexican-American Club helped to promote friendship throughout the campus.

C.S.F. AND SCIENCE CLUB

For members of the California Scholarship Federation, academic excellence has been a long standing tradition. An honor society for college bound students, C.S.F. held scholastic achievement as its primary goal. Students earned membership on the basis of semester grades. Those joining the federation were required to maintain at least three "A's" and one "B" in academic subjects. More ambitious members worked toward life membership and the Seal Bearer award.

Science Club, new to Excelsior's roster of organizations this year, gave students interested in science an opportunity to meet and discuss science projects. Under the direction of Mr. Larsen, members met to investigate many puzzling scientific questions.

ALTAIRS

"Down the hall, turn left, and it's the first door on your right." Remember those familiar words heard from Altair members on the first day of school? Altair members were pretty busy that day as well as every other day this past year. They worked hard to keep our halls and assemblies in good order so that Excelsior students could once again hold to its tradition of being a well organized school. Aside from all the hard work, Altair members took time out to enjoy seening FINIAN'S RAINBOW at the Pantages Theater. We owe thanks to Altair members for helping to make Excelsior a school of which we can be proud.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

Future Business Leaders of America was an active organization on our campus which provided many worthwhile experiences for its members. Members rendered service to the community during the year through sponsoring many worthwhile projects. At Christmas F.B.L.A. members made gifts for elderly people confined to hospitals. The club also participated in money making projects. The printing and selling of football programs proved once again to be a successful business project for the club. As their last business venture of the year, members sold annual covers.

NFL, Chapter 534, represented Excelsior at speech tournaments and brought home local, state and national recognition. Excelsior's speech squad achieved record-setting victories this year as they swept the state qualifier at Whittier College with a record score in sweepstake points.

The International Relations Club proved a welcome addition to the many active organizations on our campus. Once again IRC made it possible to bring a foreign exchange student to our school. This year they sponsored Hannele Mustonen, a student from Finland.

Excelsior's Business Builders, a club composed of juniors, sophomores and freshmen, was organized to introduce students to the business world. Through various sales members raised funds for scholarships and club activities. Their services were much appreciated by students at Excelsior.

ART AND MATH CLUB

A▲ B▼

Art Club gave students interested in the world of art an opportunity to express their talents. Throughout the year members of this organization arranged displays that added colorful decorations to our halls and campus. Assisted by Mrs. Monro, Art Club sponsored their exhibits and took field trips to art museums.

Through selling pep ribbons at football games, Math Club was able to award scholarships to two deserving seniors who excelled in the field of mathematics. With the help of Miss Ling and Mr. Robillard, Math Club had an active and successful year.

RADIO AND AUTO CLUB

Learning the Morse Code was only one of the opportunities Radio Club offered its members. By sharing experiences and knowledge, members of Radio Club gained a better understanding of the operation of radio and television sets. Through these experiences members acquired the background necessary for a career in the field of electronics.

For boys who were interested in mechanics, Auto Club offered an opportunity to learn more about automobiles. With the experience gained through membership in this club, members found it an easier task to repair cars for themselves, family and friends.

RED CROSS AND F.N.A.

A▲ B▼

During the year Red Cross members once again performed invaluable services at Rancho Los Amigos and Veterans' Hospitals. Members gave of their time freely to help those who were confined to hospital beds. The voluntary services of these girls were appreciated by both school and the community.

Future Nurses of America participated in cheering sick patients and helping handicapped children. Throughout the year F.N.A. members visited hospitals where they gained insight into nursing and other fields of medicine. F.N.A. also participated in an annual candy cane sale. The proceeds from this sale went to help Excelsior maintain a bed at Orthopedic Hospital.

F.T.A. AND F.H.A.

Future Teachers of America was organized to encourage and to aid those students who were interested in teaching. Members of F.T.A. attended conferences and helped teachers in elementary schools. These experiences were designed to give members first hand teaching experience.

Future Homemakers of America was organized three years ago for girls who were interested in becoming better homemakers. The club, under the direction of Miss Daniels, provided many opportunities for girls to master household skills such as sewing, decorating, preparation of menus and budgeting.

PEP CLUB

C▲

One of the fringe benefits for Pep Club members was sitting on the fifty yard line to cheer our football team on to victory. The privilege of joining Pep Club has always been reserved for freshmen. With the purpose of promoting school spirit, this club recruits many underclassmen each year. Under the guidance of the junior varsity pepsters, Pep Club sold colorful helium-filled balloons to our football crowd to raise money for their treasury.

One of the more outstanding clubs on campus is Excelsior's own Varsity Club. Boys who joined Varsity Club were voted into membership after meeting requirements which called for active participation and excellence in Excelsior's sports program. Members who wore the treasured gray and green varsity jackets kept busy after school with workouts and practices so that they would represent Excelsior well on the playing field. A sizzling steak-fry concluded an active year for this proud group of Excelsior boys.

One of the newest organizations on campus this year was the Gymnastics Club. Each member competed against himself trying to reach higher physical goal. Under the supervision of Mr. Lynn, the club helped to give the team determination to do better this year in league finals.

THESPIANS

A▲ B▼ C▼

One of the most talented and creative clubs on Excelsior's campus was the Thespians. Through participating enthusiastically in skits, impromptues and plays each student was required to earn ten points to attain membership. Thespians were busy this year presenting assemblies, the Christmas Play, Junior-Senior Class Play, and the Spring Swing. Under the direction of Miss Siemssen, Thespians proved once again to be a very successful organization.

Excelsior's A Cappella Choir presented enjoyable programs for the entire student body, parents, and faculty as they presented selections at assemblies, the Christmas program, P.T.A., Spring Swing, and choir festivals. At the close of the year the choir added a festive touch to Senior Vesper Services and graduation.

As the entire student body waited expectantly for the presentation of the '68-'69 Homecoming Queen, everyone had a chance to view the beautiful Grecian setting created by the stage crew. This setting was only one example of the many sets that stage crew members constructed. Among their efforts were sets for MY THREE ANGELS, our annual Christmas program, THE CURIOUS SAVAGE, our Junior-Senior Play, Spring Swing, and also sets for dramatic contests held at neighboring schools and colleges.

MARCHING AND PEP BAND

The high-stepping Excelsior marching band marched onward at all home football games and parades playing "On Excelsior," and "Excelsior on the Campus." As a result of continued practice, the band received many high honors.

While the marching band played familiar school songs, the pep band provided music to back our school spirit for all our away football games, rallies, and basketball games.

Throughout the year, Excelsior's California Cadet Corps stressed the importance of military training. Boys were constantly drilled in all fields of military tactics vital to the defense of our country. Serving and ushering at athletic events and other school functions were also among their duties. Representing Excelsior at parades, Cal-Cadets received many trophies for their excellent formation. Excelsior is proud and honored to have such a fine Cal-Cadet Corps on campus.

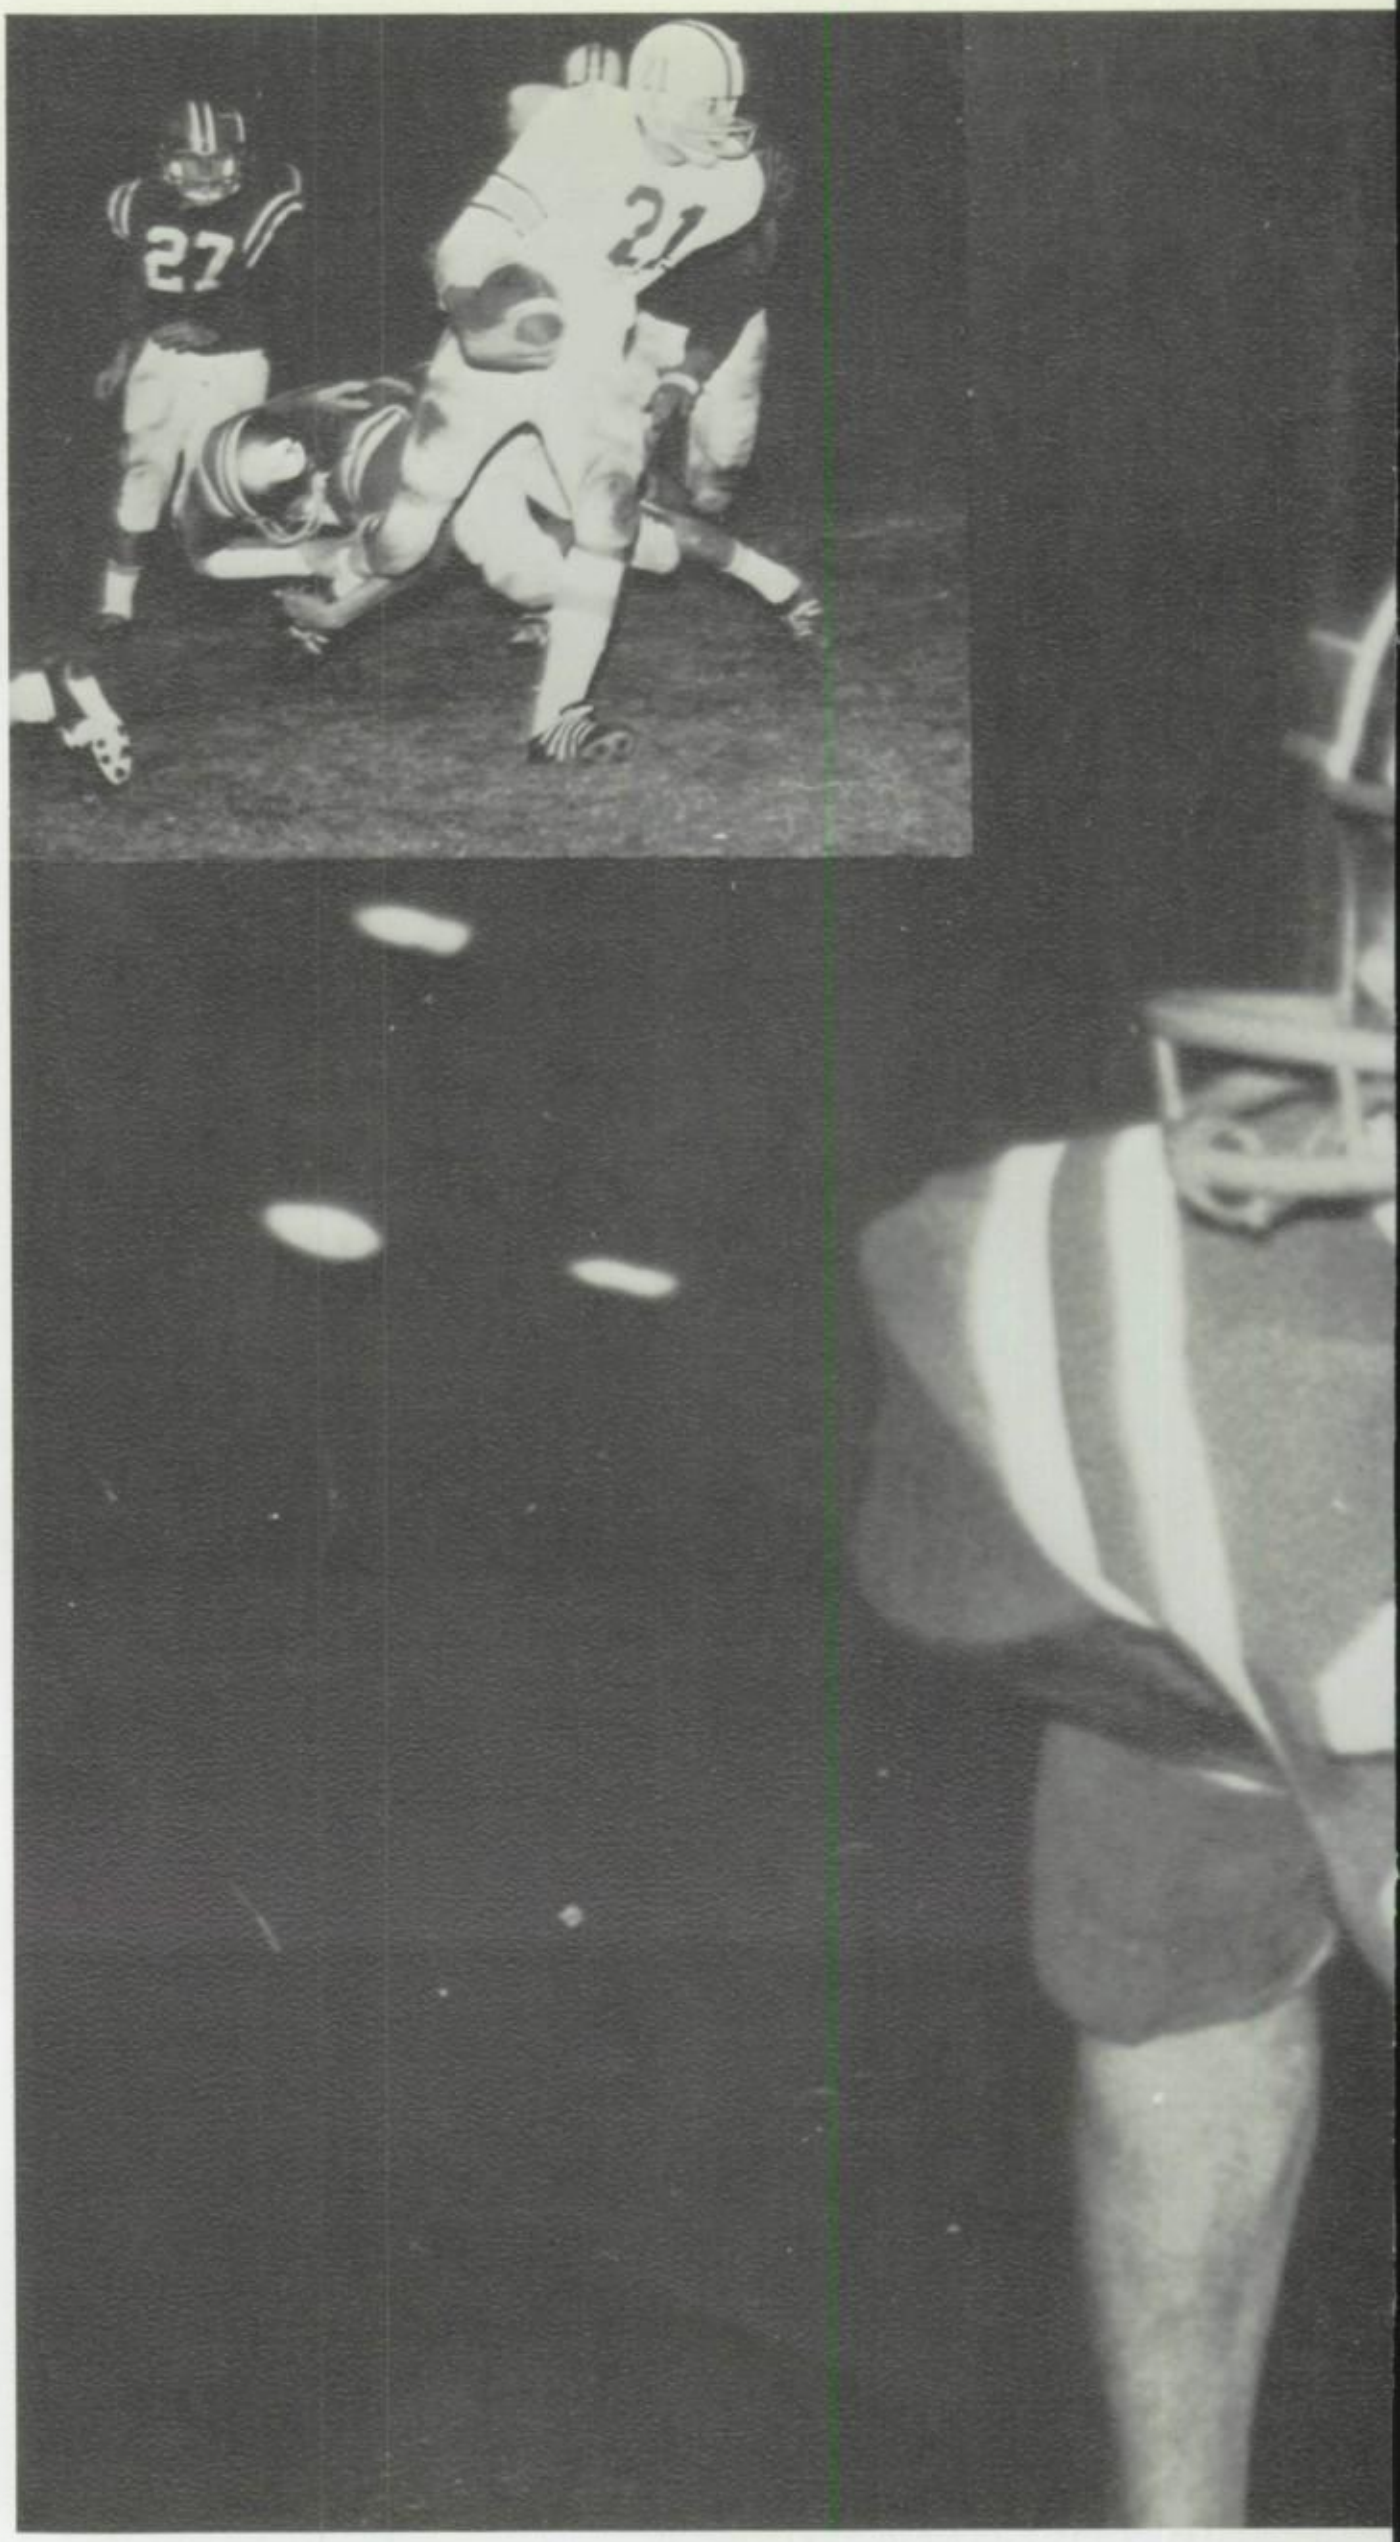
VARSITY AND J.V. FOOTBALL TEAMS



REFLECTIONS ON AN EXCELSIOR VICTORY

As each kick-off was completed and an exciting football game began, a flood of thoughts rushed through each player's mind. As he moved forward with the first offensive rush, concern for the game was ever present. "Could he block a heavier team?" "The team is heavier, but slower than ours." "No matter what happens, he must play as if this were the only game this season."

As the game progressed and each player tired, he remained confident. His confidence was born of long hours of practice and drill from a coach that had made football a science.

When the gun fired, signaling the end of the fourth quarter and another victory for the Pilots, a feeling of satisfaction engulfed him as he listened to the "Alma Mater" sung from the stands. The shouting and back slapping over, our Excelsior player ponders, "Did his girl see him intercept that last pass for the final touchdown?"

1968 - '69 HOMECOMING COURT

PRINCESSES BARBARA ALLEN AND SUZANNE CASSO ◂

PRINCESSES SUZANNE NAPOLEAN AND GLORIA SCHUSKE ▾

Excelsior's Homecoming tradition began in 1932 with 1905 alumni attending the festivities. At the first Homecoming Assembly the queen was announced after being chosen from princesses elected by the Senior Class. Since that first assembly all queens have been introduced at assemblies. This year Dan Parks kept an anxious audience and five excited princesses in suspense. Finally when the suspense was at its peak, Dan announced the name of our queen and the beautiful Karen Grove will never forget that moment.

That moment was the beginning of an exciting Homecoming week for Karen and her court, who proudly reigned over the traditional activities.

During the half-time activities at the Homecoming game, a cheering crowd rose to its feet to honor the court. Following the game the court presided at the Alumni Reception. This was the last activity of an exciting week, a week that will remain in the memories of the beautiful court and Karen who was our Queen.

A blued-haired Mrs. Savage took the spotlight in Excelsior's Junior-Senior Class Play, THE CURIOUS SAVAGE, written by John Patrick.

The "Savage" of this play wasn't an uncivilized cannibal, but a charming and wealthy widow, named Ethel Savage who believed that people should indulge in their foolish whims. She wanted to use her millions to help others do foolish things.

Her step-children were horrified, and decided to put her into a high-class sanitarium, hoping to eventually declare her insane, so they could gain control of the Savage millions. With her new found friends at the Cloisters, Ethel Savage outwitted her greedy family and confirmed her belief in a person's right to do foolish things.

As the curtain fell an enthusiastic audience filled the auditorium with applause, showing appreciation for a fine Junior-Senior Class Play.
